Dear Parents,

Williams School is in the process to reconvene the 2020-2021 African American Parent Advisory Council. The AAPAC is a council dedicated to closing the achievement gap for students of African American descent.

Additionally, it is recommended that parents of African American students constitute at least half of the membership body. Members of the African American Parent Advisory Council give advice and feedback to the principal regarding matters that affect learning and behavior outcomes for African American students.

Williams School will hold its first African American Parent Advisory Council meeting on Friday, September 4, 2020 at 3:15 p.m. via zoom during Distance Learning.

We invite you to attend and partner with us in this important meeting where officers will be nominated & elected to serve our school. Additionally we will discuss programs and opportunities that are in place to help ensure African American students have opportunities to succeed at Williams School.

If you are interested in attending this meeting, please fill out the section below and return it to the school by Wednesday, August 19, 2020. Drop Box in front of the school August 14-19th from 8:30 a.m.-1:00 p.m. or email to ramirezno@bcsd.com by noon of August 19th.

If you have questions, please call Nora Ramirez, at (661) 631-5840 extension 44160.

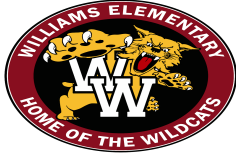

Yes, I am interested in attending the Williams School African American Parent Advisory Council (AAPAC) meeting, Friday, September 4, 2020 at 3:15 p.m. via zoom.
